Sheriff Asks Help For New District Court

Randall County should get its own district court, Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston told Randall County commissioners court Monday afternoon.

The sheriff called on commissioners to help him in securing the court.

A bill passed by the legislature would have established a 181st District Court with jurisdiction in Potter and Randall Counties had it not been vetoed by the governor.

Johnston said he has talked to Governor Preston Smith and has been assured that the governor would go along with a bill establishing a separate court for Randall.

County Judge Carroll Brown said he understands the 181st District Court Bill will be resubmitted in the forthcoming special session of the legislature.

"It seems to me that it is better to go along with what has already been passed and not rock the boat," observed Judge Brown who is rumored to be seeking the bench of the new court if it is established.

"I'd just as soon not have one at all," retorted Johnston.

Johnston said Amarillo lawyers have been the moving force to give the new court jurisdiction in both counties.

He branded their motives selfish and rooted in the desire to have the new judge handy to their offices located in Amarillo.

Johnston said the chances for Randall County to secure its own district court in the special session are excellent.

"The governor told me he wouldn't fight it," Johnston declared. "Tom Christian (state representative from Claude) said he would go along with it."

"I just wanted to talk to you and see if you were receptive," the sheriff went on.

The sheriff brought up Randall County's expenditure on adult probation which is handled out of Amarillo under jurisdiction of 47th District Court.

He said Randall County contributed $13,000 as its pro rata share last year. A spokesman for the probation office confirmed this figure and said Potter County contributed some $52,000 over the same perod.

County contributions from Armstrong, Potter and Randall which make up the 47th Judicial District are based on 1960 population and probably will be changed after the 1970 census next year.

During the past year the probation department handled 126 felony probationers and 57 misdemeanors for Randall County and 398 felony probationers and 86 misdemeanors for Potter.

During the same period, $2,837.90 was returned to Randall and restitution of $38,000 was made in both counties combined.

Johnston pointed out that Randall County is the fastest growing county in the state and is rapidly approaching Potter in population. He said there are 30,000 registered voters in Potter County and 20,000 in Randall County.

"How can you say that we are not big enough for one district court and that they (Potter) are big enough for three courts?" the sheriff asked commissioners.

Plains Sheet Metal was retained to do some repair work on the roof of the Randall County court house annex in South Amarillo.

The court voted to move on an emergency basis to replace inadequate court house wiring. Because of insufficient power, temperature in parts of the court house last week rose to 86 degrees.

The court accepted a bid from Steck Company for 26,000 voter registration blanks at $187.98.

Amarillo Office Machines with a bid of $376.55 was apparent low bidder on an electric typewriter for the county

WT To Top 8,000

BY ELAINE PEEPLES

Enrollment at West Texas State University this fall will be well over 8,000 if the increase in the applications for admission continue at the current rate, according to Dr. T. Paige Carruth, dean of student life.

Dr. Carruth said the applications for admission were now running 26 per cent ahead of this same time last year.

The reservations for housing both on the campus and in the community are also well ahead of last year, Carruth said.

Even with the regular 10 per cent growth that WTSU experiences each year, the enrollment is projected at 8,030 students this fall, Carruth said.

Enrollment at WTSU in the fall of 1968 was 7,300 students.

Dr. Carruth said the 26 per cent increase in applications was mainly coming from freshman students.

WTSU had 2,600 freshmen students last fall. With a 10 per cent increase, the freshmen enrollment would be 2,860 but with a 25 per cent increase, the freshmen enrollment would be 3,250.

Dr. Carruth said that the projection was also based on the number of seniors graduating from area high schools.

He said that he made a study each year of 65 area high schools and that last year they had a combined enrollment of 5,300.

"Our area high school population is increasing and so WT will increase," Dr. Carruth said.

The area junior colleges in Amarillo, Clarendon and Borger are also turning out more graduates each year, he said.

"Academically and staff wise, we are in pretty good shape. We can handle 8,000 without infringing on our academic quality," Dr. Carruth said.

He said that the main reason was because of the new University Complex South.

"We run into all kinds of complications on housing," he said. "The woman's housing on campus has been filled since Easter," Carruth said, "and the men's housing is rapidly filling."

"All the large apartment houses for students in Canyon are already full," he said.

At the present time, Carruth said, 2,000 of the students live

City Engineer Warns Downtown

BY TROY MARTIN

Canyon Monday night was admonished to upgrade its downtown area or see it dwindle away.

The warning came from Marvin Springer, city planning engineer, as he talked to the Canyon planning and zoning commission.

Downtown Canyon is important to all the community's citizens, the engineer declared.

"I'm looking at the entire community," he said. "To the non-downtowner I'd say it's to their benefit too."

Springer presented a drawing which showed downtown intersections re-done so as to create a planting area for shrubs, trees and flowers and a sitting area. Intersection crossings were also reduced.

The city planner said beautification and remodeling of downtown Canyon is badly needed and praised county government for its contribution to that section.

"The people who built the court house have done a good job," he declared emphasizing the importance of the court house area to the community as a whole.

He said that with the court house the community will retain its identity but without it the identity might be lost.

"Remove the court house and

TEACHER PAY SCHEDULE SET

Canyon school board Tuesday night adopted a teacher pay schedule for the 1969-70 school term in line with a teacher pay raise bill passed by the legislature.

The schedule will result in substantial pay increases for Canyon teachers and administrative personnel.

Canyon teachers will draw $500 above the state salary schedule.

Salary for a beginning teacher with a bachelors degree has been pegged at $5,837 while a teacher with the same degree and 10 years experience will draw $7,007.

A beginning teacher with a masters degree will draw $6,377. This salary remains constant through the first four years of experience and then jumps to $6,692 through the fourth and fifth years, $7,007 through the sixth and seventh years, $7,340 through the eighth, ninth and tenth years, $7,682 through the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth years,

Aug. 15 Set As Deadline For Reports

The Randall County ASCS office has announced Aug. 15 as the final date for filling acreage certifications for grain sorghum, corn, cotton and diverted acres.

Donald F. Lloyd, office manager, said anyone who files their report within the next 30 days should receive their payments shortly after Sept. 1.

Anyone who waits until the deadline to file their reports will have their payment delayed, Lloyd said.

Lloyd said that requests for the ASCS office to measure acreage should be made as soon as possible.

Producers are also reminded, Lloyd said, that cotton, feed grain and wheat acreage must be planted and cared for in a manner in expectations of making a normal return in order

Canyon Scouts Leave For Idaho Jamboree

Six Canyon scouts leave today, Thursday, for a trip to the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Farragut, Idaho.

Canyon's scouts will be among members of Jamboree Troops 21-22 and will travel in two chartered 46 passenger busses. Enroute to the campsite the group will visit in Durango, Colorado; Salt Lake City, Utah; Yellowstone National Park and Butte, Montana. They will begin the return trip July 23 stopping in Helena, Montana; Casper, Wyoming and Colorado Springs, Colorado prior to arrival in Amarillo.

The group will be at the Jamboree campsite July 15-22 in Farragut, Idaho where an estimated 60,000 scouts from all nations are expected to participate.

Canyon scouts attending will be Randy and Ricky Lyles, Eddie Jacobs, Sheldon Johnson, Chris Moreland, Alan Mardis, and Roger Gist.

Gist, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gist, Jr. of Canyon, left Tuesday for the camp where he will be working in one of the camp trading posts. He is an Eagle Scout and has been involved in the scouting program for eleven years. He is now junior assistant scoutmaster for Boy Scout Troop 31 and graduated from Canyon High School this spring.

Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Johnson, is a senior in Canyon High School. He is an Eagle scout and has been in scouting for eleven years where he is a senior patrol leader, member of the Order of the Arrow, earned the Scout Life Award, God and Country Award and is an honor scout. He plans "to have fun and make new friends" at the national jamboree.

Mardis, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mardis, is a freshman student in the Canyon Public Schools and is active in band. He is a Star Scout and has been in scouting for six years. His plans for the jamboree call for "making new friends and learning more about scouting".

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jacobs of Canyon, Eddie is 15 and a sophomore at Canyon High School. He is athletically inclined and plays football, basketball and runs high hurdles in the track program. A Life

McCown Found Dead In Jail Cell

Roderick McCown, 17 years old, was found dead from hanging early Sunday morning in a Randall County jail cell which he occupied as a trusty.

The cell is a special one located on the ground floor of the building.

McCown was under indictment on a statutory rape charge.

He was charged in connection with the alleged rape of a 14-year-old Amarillo girl Jan. 11, 1969.

Four other boys charged in the incident were given probation.

McCown was found at 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning by Sheriff's Department Dispatcher Kenneth Hammonds when the dispatcher called the trusty to begin daily cleanup chores around the court house.

Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston said McCown was hanged by a belt from the grill of the cell door. The belt was looped around McCown's neck and the other end wrapped around one of the bars about 5 feet, 2 inches above the cell floor.

The victim apparently slumped to bring pressure on his neck and officers conjecture that he could have eased that pressure any time before losing consciousness merely by standing up.

An Amarillo pathologist said McCown died of suffocation by strangulation. No coroner's verdict has yet been returned.

He is believed to have been hanged about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. He had made two telephone calls about 9:30. One was to his mother in Amarillo.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lisbon McCown of Amarillo.

McCown was known by those who came in contact with him at the court house as a quiet boy and a willing worker.

"He attended to his own busi-

Annexation Discussed

Possibility of annexing territory northward to include Buffalo Bowl came under study by the city commission at a regular meeting last Thursday night.

North boundary of the city presently is Palo Duro Creek which flows through Hunsley Hills.

City Attorney Elton Cox told commissioners that the city may annex 30 percent of its present size this year.

Mayor Paul Lindsey expressed approval of annexing plans

City Manager Due July 21

The new Canyon city manager, Howard F. Northcutt of Wichita Falls, plans to assume his duties here July 21, according to Mayor Paul Lindsey.

Northcutt plans to be in Canyon some time this week to make arrangements for his move, Lindsey said.

Mayor Lindsey announced the appointment of the new city manager Saturday.

Northcutt, an administrative assistant for the city of Wichita Falls, will replace Paul Davis who resigned to accept a similar position at Kerrville.

Certificate Value Is Up

Domestic marketing certificates for eligible 1969 crop wheat will be worth $1.52 per bushel, according to Donald F. Lloyd of the Randall County ASCS office.

This is 14 cents per bushel more than the 1968 crop certificate value, Lloyd said.

The certificate value is based on the difference between July 1, 1969, wheat parity price of $2.77 per bushel and the 1969 crop national average loan rate of $1.25 per bushel, Lloyd said.

Certificate payments to farmers are based on the established yield on 43 per cent on 1969 wheat acreage allotments.

Legion To Play-Offs

The Canyon American Legion baseball team has ended their season in second place and will play in the district play-offs July 17 in Borger.

Canyon beat Hereford 6-4 Saturday night and Tascosa 6-5 Sunday night to retain their position of second place in their district.

Max Bosley, coach, said the team lost to Tascosa early in the season for their only loss.

The North and South districts will enter the play-offs in Borger, Bosley said, and there will be four teams in the tournament.

Canyon plays Borger first and then will play the winners of Tascosa and either Palo Duro or Amarillo High School.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

Canyon people this week were given at least two good reasons for developing Canyon business and trading at home.

Marvin Springer, city planning engineer, Monday night told the city planning and zoning commission that a great deal of the city's potential retail business is being lost.

He said some sections of the city need to be remodeled or we can expect business to dwindle further.

He was emphatic in saying that something needs to be done to beautify downtown Canyon. He noted that the downtown section is centered around the square and that the city maintains a great deal of its identity as a result of the court house being here.

Canyon people should trade in Canyon when at all possible.

Everyone in the community has a stake in it. Dollars spent out of town do not encourage the growth of Canyon business and Canyon business and industry must bear the brunt of future improvement and maintenance of our public school system.

West Texas State University is a great asset to Canyon and has often been billed as Canyon's best industry. This is true but it is an industry which pays no taxes. Therefore, it does not help to maintain the public school system.

There will never be any more agriculture land than there is today and there is a limit to the amount of taxes which may be safely levied against farm land.

Canyon is to some extent a bedroom city for Amarillo and this is good but the fact remains that a three bedroom house housing two school children will not pay enough school taxes to even come close to providing the local funds necessary to pay for their public schooling.

The only logical answer to Canyon's school financial problems is to attract more industry and keep more of the dollars spent by Canyon people on retail merchandise in the community.

If we do not succeed on these two points some of the factors which in the past have been assets to Canyon may become liabilities.

There already is some speculation and rumor in state political circles that Ralph Yarborough will not be a candidate for the Senate next year.

I doubt the truth of such rumor but I sincerely believe that if the Senator should make such a decision it might be the wisest of his career.

Canyon has one of the best youth summer programs in the area.

Surely there is something we could do to honor the deciated adults who devote so much of their time to the welfare of our kids.

I'm thinking particularly of Dr. Dudley Moore. He is a very busy physician.

Yet, he finds time to work with the summer baseball program and he never misses a football game or basketball game in the fall and winter.

He's always there rooting for Canyon youngsters.

On top of it all he is a member of the Canyon school board which is itself a very demanding job.

Letter To The Editor

YOUTH COMMENT

I would like to say that I heartily agree with the comments made by the two students in your editorial of July 3rd. One of these students is a personal friend. I too have some comments to make.

Your generation as in several generations previous is obsessed with the dollar sign! To you money is all-powerful, allmighty. Well to my generation money just isn't that important. My generation wants love, and peace, and happiness.

Money is none of these things at all. It does offer a certain security though, and to you is a power symbol.

Your generation is one of the most mercenary and money hungry that ever was.

You wonder why so many of your generation are unhappy with their jobs, and why so many are constantly changing jobs and going back to (or to) college. It's because they were only concerned with the money they could make and their social position, not with their personal happiness in that job; or did God intend for them to enter that line of work. Most of my generation more than ever before are seriously considering these things.

I get so tired of hearing parents say "No, don't pick that career--it doesn't make enough money, dear," or how about "You're going to finish high school and go to college" (so you can make a lot of money). I'm not knocking college.

So what if your generation did discover all the things you mentioned. We're not trying to deprive you of the limelight. Think about the amount of money your generation is wasting in Vietnam, on so-called "Poverty Programs," and on a lot of unnecessary "welfare." The recipients can even strike so you will give them some more. Who are the "Beautiful People" and the "Jet Set"? Your generation. You're impressed with money in this respect. Most of my generation isn't.

Money to most teens is a necessity not an excessive luxury or a power symbol.

Money IS the root of all evil (I'll give credit to a previous generation for that little pearl of knowledge.) Money causes people to kill, steal, cheat, sin, hate, turn against each other, and even God. It is the root of a certain emotional illness. Bonnie and Clyde are a good example among numerous others in previous generations of killing and stealing for money.

Remember how some members of generations previous acquired their great wealth. For example Onassis, or the Kennedys.

I'm not trying to imply that money means nothing to my generation but I'm trying to point out that we don't believe money is "god" or power, or love, or happiness, or anything but a necessity in our present government.

We may not fare too much better than you have but at least there will be a conscientious effort.

A Concerned Student.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

As was repeated many times the past Independence Day, never in recorded history has a nation been so blessed as our United States. This is not strange, nor is it coincidental; it is the promise of God: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord" (Psa. 33:12).

Our founding fathers sacrificed their all to build a nation dedicated to God. Now the average American seems determined to shut God out. The result will be, of course, that Americans will be shut out.

Our nation is only 193 years old, an infant in the history books; yet it has next to the oldest government on earth. Men who will not heed history are doomed to repeat it.

There are three eternal verities that no nation can spurn with impunity: religious truth, moral purity, and political integrity.

"The powers that be are ordained of God." When they reject the God who exalted them, they go down in defeat. Granted, many nations and individuals have been empowered only as instruments of chastisement for the people of God. When they fulfilled their purpose, they were annihilated.

If Godless Russia is ever successful in defeating Christian America, it will occur only when the sins of America have become impossible for God to tolerate. And it surely looks as if that time is approaching.

Teachers are no longer allowed to appeal to the higher instincts of children through prayer and Bible reading in the classroom, but they may soon be forced to appeal to their lower instincts by teaching sex. (Are men dumber than animals? Who ever heard of an animal having to be taught the mechanics of mating?)

The hippies decry the morals of the "square generation" being thrust upon them. But morality did not originate with the square generation; it originated with our Creator. He made the rules by which men must abide if they are to abound.

Men and nations seldom rush into sin; they usually slide into it. Pope expressed it so beautifully in his Essay on Man:

Vice is a monster of so frightful mien,
As to be hated needs but to be seen;
Yet seen too oft, familiar with her face,
We first endure, then pity, then embrace.

Only a few months ago a play was presented with one scene featuring naked actors. The doors were locked to keep the audience in. Apparently no legal action was taken either by the local, state, or national government against such indecent exposure.

So! What happened? Then came whole plays staged in the nude. There was Che!, Geese, Hair, and now Oh! Calcutta!, which features every kind of sex play known to man--normal and deviate. And the doors have to be locked to keep the crowds out--not in.

Tickets which began at $7.50 in June are to graduate to $25.00 in August. Scalpers are getting $20.00 or more from voyeurs determined to get into the sold-out theater. Advance sales already total $103,000.

There have always been men who would do anything for money. The cause for alarm lies in the fact that so many Americans would support such orgies, and that the legal authorities make no attempt to stop them.

American law has strayed so far from the Book upon which it was based, there is no longer any resemblance. Law breakers are lionized; criminals are coddled; and officers are ostracized.

Men who work are forced to share the fruits of their labors with men who won't work.

Politicians have promised one thing, and done the opposite until voters no longer expect political integrity--but God does (Ecc. 5:4-5).

How long can a nation continue to be blessed whose god is pleasure, with every man choosing his own brand?

Queen Victoria led England (the only government older than our own) away from an abyss similar to the one we are sliding into. How many God-fearing Americans will covenant to pray for a leader to deliver us--before it is too late?

Power To Be Off At WTSU

A new $100,000 electrical distribution center is to be installed on the campus of West Texas State University and electrical power will be off on the campus Friday through Sunday.

John Boone of the maintenance department said all power would be off Friday, except in the business Administration building and University Complex South.

Boone said they hoped to sectionalize the campus Saturday so power would be off in only one building at a time.

He said power should be on in all the buildings sometime Sunday.

C. Boone McClure of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum said the museum would be closed Friday, Saturday and Sunday while the change-over is being completed.

Cadet McManigal At ROTC Camp

Cadet James G. McManigal is attending Reserve Officers Training Corps basic summer camp at Fort Benning, Georgia.

The six-week encampment is a substitute activity for cadets who did not take the first two years of college ROTC. Cadets will be trained in the principles of military leadership forming the foundation of his career as an Army officer after completion of ROTC requirements.

Cadet McManigal, 22, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morlan McManigal of Happy. He is a student at Texas A & M University.

Hadley Attends Father's Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Hadley and Meredith of 516 11th Ave. returned recently from Oklahoma City where they attended the funeral of Hadley's father, Harold Earl Hadley.

Mr. Hadley died July 3. Funeral services were held Saturday and burial was in Edmond, Okla.

Also attending the services from Canyon were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hood. Mrs. Hood was Mr. Hadley's granddaughter.

News Brief

A planning retreat will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday for the senior high United Methodist Youth Fellowship group at the church.

The committee will be in charge of food arrangements but members should furnish bedrolls. The project will continue until 9 p.m. on Saturday.

Recent visitors in the Charlie Boston home were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Andrews and daughters from Albuquerque, New Mexico.

PGA Tour Results In Journalistic Success

BY ELAINE PEEPLES

All is well that ends well, so goes the saying, and so it was for Brad Wilson, formerly of Canyon.

An unsuccessful PGA tour happened to end as a success for Wilson for it led to the team of golf and journalism.

Wilson, the son of Mrs. Glenna Wilson of Canyon, is now assistant professional at the Stardust Country Club in San Diego and is currently writing a series of articles on celebrities who play golf.

A graduate of Silverton High School, Wilson attended Wayland Baptist College in Plainview on a basketball scholarship and then attended Clarendon Junior College.

He received his degree from West Texas State University in 1961 with a major in physical education and a minor in journalism. He also played on the WT Golf Team.

"His last year in college he came home and announced he was turning golf pro," Mrs. Wilson said, "and he's never been sorry."

Wilson served his apprenticeship at a retirement community in Sun City, Ariz., Mrs. Wilson said. Then he went to the LaJolla Country Club in LaJolla, Calif., and worked under veteran golfer Paul Runyan.

In 1967, Wilson and his wife, Nancy, decided to go on the professional golf tour and he "was the most unsuccessful golfer on the tour," his mother said.

After the tour, Wilson wrote his experiences about his failure on the tour in a two-part article for "Golf Digest."

The articles appeared in the March and April issues of 1968 and were entitled "Down the Up Staircase or What It Takes to Go Broke on the Pro Tour."

The Digest said about Wilson, "Wilson exhibits a rare writing talent, the ability to relate excruciatingly painful experiences with a commendable lack of self-pity. Instead his articles reflect a deep sense of humor, an especially valuable quality for any touring professional."

These two articles were Wilson's first attempts at journalism to be published, Mrs. Wilson said, but they have led to several others.

He has been asked by "Par" magazine to do a series of eight to ten articles on celebrities who play golf. He began these features about a month ago.

He has written articles about his own golf swing and about those of Lawrence Welk, Runyan, John Hadl, quarterback for the San Diego Chargers, Ernie Wright, offensive tackle for the Cincinnati Bengals, and George Zischank of San Diego.

These articles have been picked up by Copley News Service and now go to several newspapers throughout the country.

Wilson has articles planned on Willy Mosconi, world's billiard champion 15 times, and Phil Harris.

Mrs. Wilson said that her son contacted the celebrities wherever they are and then goes and plays golf with them.

Wilson played 52 holes of golf with Lawrence Welk before he wrote the article. He played golf and also billiards with Mosconi, Mrs. Wilson said.

"He meets so many interesting people," Mrs. Wilson said.

Wilson has also written a story about Paul Runyan for "Sucess Unlimited" but the article has not been published yet, Mrs. Wilson said.

Wilson's father, Charlie Wilson, died about a year ago, Mrs. Wilson said, but he used to play alot of golf and "Brad learned to caddie for his daddy," she said.

He also has a brother, Jim, in Amarillo.

Wilson met his wife in Sun City and they are expecting a child in November.

Ida May Lowes Dies, Rites Slated Today

Funeral services for Ida May Lowes, 88, will be conducted today, Thursday at 10 a.m. at LaGrone Funeral Chapel in Canyon with Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Mrs. Lowes died Tuesday at Southwest Convalescent Home in Amarillo. She was born May 7, 1881 at Blue Springs, Nebraska and married the late Joseph Cain Lowes at Wymore, Nebraska January 1, 1900.

The family moved from Nebraska to Panhandle, Texas in 1906. Mrs. Lowes experienced moments of homesickness as did many other young pioneer wives who came from thickly settled, timbered areas of the North and East to the lonely, barren prairies of West Texas.

Mr. Lowes bought the Panhandle Herald, a weekly newspaper; and Mrs. Lowes, who had worked in the composing room of a farm journal in Kansas City before her marriage, took over much of the typesetting for the Herald.

No house was available in Panhandle when the family first arrived, and for several months home was a small apartment adjoining the printing office. After the housework was finished for the day, Mrs. Lowes often brought cases of type from the office, propped them up on the dining table, and by the light of a kerosene lamp worked until late at night setting into type the news stories which Mr. Lowes had written during the day. She felt a deep sense of obligation to advertisers who expected to get their newspaper at a regular time each week. This unquestioned integrity and loyalty to a purpose were a part of every facet of her life.

The paper was sold in 1909, and from then until Mr. Lowes' death she devoted her time to her family.

In 1916 the person who was then editor and publisher of the Herald offered her employment, and she happily returned to newspaper work. A year or so later when he was elected to the state legislature, Mrs. Lowes was asked to take charge of the paper while he was in Austin. Her responsibilities included writing local news stories, soliciting advertising, setting all of the type by hand, and preparing the forms of type for the press which printed the paper each week. After the papers were in the post office and on their way to subscribers, the remaining time was spent taking care of orders for stationery, handbills, etc.

In 1923 Mrs. Lowes moved with her family to Canyon, Texas, giving up her dual role of professional person and homemaker. From that date until her death her interests centered around her home and her friends and neighbors.

She was reared in the faith of the Christian Church, but transferred her membership to the Methodist Church at the time of her marriage. She was a member of the United Methodist Church of Canyon and was a regular attendant at its services until her health failed several years ago.

Mrs. Lowes is survived by a daughter, Ruth Lowes of Canyon; and two sons, Delbert and Dean Lowes, both of Canyon. She was preceded in death by a son, Joseph C. Lowes in 1916 and a stepson, Dale J. Lowes in 1936.

Other survivors include four grandchildren, four great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild.

Interment will be at Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Home. Serving as pallbearers are Jack Barnard, W. Mitchell Jones, M. B. Sims, C. C. Jones, Jack N. Jennings, and W. W. Sternenberg.

The family requests that memorials go to favorite charities.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it--and so do its readers.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller were in Maple, Texas during the week end to visit with her parents, Bonnie Long and Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Long. The Miller's daughter, Carolyn, remained with her grandparents for a three-week summer visit.

HELENE McFARLAND, who will realize her educational dreams in August, is shown as she pauses by the family pool in Arney Community to visit briefly with her daughter, Kipa (in white shirt) and her friend, Karen Murdock. Mrs. McFarland has "dabbled in art" for a number of years and the center photo is a scene from the family's acreage where a lily pond and shrubbery form the setting. In final photo Mrs. McFarland is shown with her painting of oranges which were done "on a rainy day at the spur of the moment". Also pictured is a handmade chest with copper enameled panels which Mrs. McFarland has made for her home.

Youthful Dream For Woman Becomes Reality With College Degree

BY LORENA MILLER

A dream of her youth will be realized by Mrs. Helene McFarland in August when she is slated to receive her B. S. degree in art education from West Texas State University.

Mrs. McFarland, the wife of Gwen McFarland, lives 14 miles west of Happy at "Windy Acres". The McFarland home is located one mile south of the Randall County line and two miles west of the Swisher County Line in Castro County.

She was born and raised within two miles of her present home. Her parents, the late Jock and Katie Morris, were pioneer residents in the community where they owned ranch land. He settled in the area in 1904 and his wife came to the Arney community in 1916.

"I was raised on the ranch," said Mrs. McFarland. "When I graduated from high school in 1935 I wanted to go on to college then--but my father had just died the previous year leaving mother a widow with six daughters to raise. The youngest was five at the time."

"I made myself a promise then to someday finish college," she said. "I wanted to go to college worse than anybody--but girls just didn't go as much then, and my family situation called a halt to my dreaming."

In November 1938, she married a young man, Gwen McFarland, who was originally from Illinois.

"We built us a home, right out in the middle of a wheat pasture and my husband broke the land into farming acreage. Then our three daughters came along--and I decided to go back to school when they were all raised."

"My mother had continued to live on the ranch until all of her daughters were through high school and then she moved into Amarillo. She died there last November at the age of 84."

Born to the McFarlands over the years were three daughters including Sandy (Mrs. Kip Morgan), DeZane Carter of Claytonville, Texas and Kipa, 14.

Sandy's husband works part of the acreage and DeZane's husband farms and ranches near Lockney. Kipa is a freshman student of Happy Public Schools.

"The girls have blessed us with two grandsons," related Mrs. McFarland noting that Thane, their oldest grandson, was the first boy born in the McFarland family for a period of 51 years. Jhara Carter, the second grandson, is two months younger.

From an original two bedroom house, the McFarlands have enlarged their home to include four bedrooms, three baths, a kitchen with bar and dining area, living room and all are joined to the outdoors with sliding glass doors onto patio areas and a pool, which the McFarlands designed and built themselves.

"We wanted to design the pool around a certain tree," she said. "So we had a fellow to dig the hole and then we designed and shaped the pool around the tree. We put in a steel wall with vinyl liner and laid the forms for a terrace around the pool.

Adjacent the pool area are a brick barbecue, landscaped with trees, shrubs and green grass.

"We have always done things which the kids like and they had their friends out often," she said.

"My husband recently commented that the best money we have spent is in buying our trampoline which has been used by all of our youngsters and their friends."

"The girls all play the piano, read a lot and Kipa plays the flute and piccolo too," she stated relating that the family did not purchase a television set until Father's Day two years ago when Mr. McFarland was presented with a television set as a gift.

"We devoted our time," she commented, "to raising our daughters, teaching them the good things of life and guiding them."

In addition to her household chores, Mrs. McFarland assists with some farming chores including driving the trucks during grain harvest time.

She is also a civic-minded person and was formerly on the board of directors for both the Canyon Community Concert Association and Panhandle Heritage Foundation for many years. She is now on the board of directors for the Castro County Library and was formerly president of the Arney Community Club and held numerous offices in the Parent-Teacher Association for the Happy Public Schools.

Mrs. McFarland has been interested in art since her youth and has "dabbled in arts and crafts over the years".

She had previously taken a commercial class in pottery and china painting and had taught classes in that field for about eight years before enrolling in college.

In her desire to work with youth, Mrs. McFarland taught pottery and painting to the Girl Scouts of the community during a period of 12 years while her own daughters were involved in scouting.

In January 1965, she returned to college, West Texas State University, which was about 35 miles away.

"I didn't know what to major in," the related. "I first took some courses in accounting government and painting and emphasized the study of bookeeping since we keep all of our farming books and do our own income tax."

"My husband was busy with the land and irrigation wells so he didn't have time to take some courses in bookeeping and tax records to bring us up to date--so I started out with nine hours that semester."

She continued driving daily for college work and two semesters carried a full load of 19 hours attending classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays and one night per week.

"I was curious about all of the things offered but decided to get my degree in art education as I could work with young people and express myself," she said. "I have always felt that it was the responsibility of each individual to leave something behind for society."

"I haven't missed a day on account of bad weather and my husband gave me the buoyancy to keep going. Dr. Emilio Caballero at the university deserves a great deal of credit for showing me that art and art education were a field where I could reach my goals."

In addition to regular school work, Mrs. McFarland spent this past spring doing her student teaching. She taught the first part of the semester with fourth, fifth and sixth grade students at an elementary school in south Amarillo and the final half of the semester she instructed the junior and senior students of Canyon High School in jewelry making.

She is working for an all-level teaching certificate and is presently doing research work for the honors course at the University which resulted in an invitation by renowned artist, Milford Zorns, which gave her observation material for her research on the "Philosophy of Water Color".

Last spring, Mrs. McFarland had a one-man show here with 79 entries ranging from non-objective abstracts, to still life, landscapes, water colors, oil and acrylic. She also works with illuminated manuscripts which are hand lettered on parchment with hand designed borders of art.

"The manuscripts," she said, "take a lot of time--but I now have three orders for them." She also this spring received an invitation to exhibit in a six-man show in New York City.

In her creative fields, Mrs. McFarland has refinished and built various items around their home including a cedar chest (built from scratch) and decorated with copper enamel panels and a marble top.

She has also refinished a love seat and re-upholstered it. The 1867 piece of furniture is complete with claw feet. She has refinished an organ stool and dining table for the home in addition to decorating rooms throughout the various paintings of her own.

After realizing her dream this year "with honors", Mrs. McFarland is planning to continue her studies on the master's degree in her field.

SYMBOLIC ABSTRACT in the home of the Gwen McFarlands is one result of art courses taken by Mrs. McFarland in preparation for her all-level teaching certificate. She also does still life, landscapes, water color, oil, acrylic and illuminated manuscripts in her field.

City Commission Meets Mondays

The City Planning and Zoning Commission will meet on the first Monday of each month at 7 p.m. in the City Hall Annex.

The first meeting is scheduled for Aug. 4.

Jim Walker, city clerk, said that before development plans are made for unplotted tracts of land, a person should hold a pre-application conference with the city manager.

At the conference, Walker said, the city manager will review the requirements for a preliminary platt including area and street requirements and the characteristics of the city utility services.

Then a preliminary platt of the land should be drawn up and submitted to the planning and zoning commission.

This preliminary platt must be submitted 10 days prior to the commission meeting.

The commission will review the preliminary platt at no charge and will make recommendations and deletions needed in order that the platt complys with city ordinances.

This preliminary review by the commission prevents any unnecessary expense on the part of the developer, Walker said.

A final platt must then be submitted to the commission 20 days before the next meeting and they will review the preliminary and the final platt and again make recommendations if needed, Walker said.

The planning and zoning commission will then make their recommendations on the final platt to the city commission.

"TEXAS" Publicity Reaches Near, Far

"TEXAS" has received publicity in newspapers and magazines as far away as New York City, Mexico City and Washington, D. C., and London could be next.

Mrs. Ples Harper of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation said that they had been asked to send several photographs to "Life" magazine in London but they haven't received word of publication.

"TEXAS" has been featured in two newspapers from Mexico City. "El Universal," the largest newspaper published in Mexico, featured "TEXAS" in the tourist section and "The News" also gave the show some publicity.

The Banks of New York City publish a "Travel News Letter" and mentioned the play in the March, 1969 issue, as did the AAA Motorist published in Washington, D. C.

Several magazines and newspapers in Houston have written feature articles about the drama. They are "Texas Motorist," "Review" published by Craven, Dargan and Co. Insurance, and "Texas Magazine" published by the Houston Chronicle.

"A Visitor's Guide To Dallas" featured tours to "TEXAS" in their Winter 1968-69 issue and "The Daily Oklahoman" published in Oklahoma City have written several articles about the show, Mrs. Harper said.

Several other magazines have written about the drama. They are "The Red Ball Roadrunner" which spotlighted Amarillo and "TEXAS" in their June, 1969 issue, "The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Magazine" with a three-page article in Jan.-Feb. issue, "The Texas Calendar of Events," published by the Texas Highway Department, "Piano Guild Notes," "The Southwesterner" published by Southwestern Public Service, "The Calendar of Cultural Events" published by the Texas Fine Arts Commission, "Texas Parade," in their special travel issue, "Southern Living," "Braniff Magazine," and "Texas Highways" published by the Texas Highway Department.

Newspapers in the area to give "TEXAS" publicity are "The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal," the Stillwater, Okla., and Wichita Falls papers, and newspapers from Clarendon, Hereford, Perryton, Happy, Tulia, Sudan and Quanah.

Mrs. Harper said the Heritage Foundation didn't begin to have all the papers from the cast's hometowns that had featured "TEXAS" through stories or pictures

Teacher....

$8,042 through the fourteenth and fifteenth years to a maximum of $8,231 in the sixteenth year.

Salary increases for teachers with bachelors degrees range from $336 to $756 and for those with masters degrees from $336 to $864.

Under last term's schedule the salaries were $700 above state schedule for teachers with no experience but this reduced to $500 after three years for teachers with bachelors degrees and after five years for holders of masters degrees.

The board decided to drop the special supplement for beginning teachers in favor of an across the board supplement of $500.

School Superintendent Jerry Jacobs said he feels the new schedule puts Canyon in a competitive position in the teacher market.

A $15,838 increase in salaries for administrative personnel will cost local taxpayers only $42, the remainder being borne by the state.

The superintendent's salary will be raised from $17,200 to $20,680 with the entire raise being paid by the state. The district's four principals will receive raises of about $1,000 each.

Net local cost for salary increases will come to $11,903. The school will actually save money on regular teacher salaries but will spend an extra $13,333 on teachers employed in excess of the number stipulated under minimum foundation provisions.

Jacobs pointed out that the local fund assignment also has been increased $7,751 for the upcoming school term.

The superintendent told the board that the pay raise bill is designed to increase school personnel salaries in the state over a 10-year period.

He said the increases were planned to lift Texas from 33rd to something like 10th in teacher salaries in the nation.

The couple was presented with clothing, household goods and groceries as all of their belongings were burned with the exception of clothing they had taken on the trip.

Canyon becomes an appendage of Amarillo," he declared.

Springer's remarks came as a part of a two-hour discourse on projected growth of Canyon and recommendations on how to accomplish that growth in an orderly and desirable manner.

He referred briefly to a proposed regional airport route which would make it unnecessary to traverse Amarillo to get to the air terminal.

He said this route would also serve the Palo Duro Canyon recreational area.

He expressed an opinion that the city's major expansion would be to the south.

"It could go south or north or both," he amended. "If it goes both ways it would be better because that would keep the downtown area in the center. When a city grows in one direction it usually leaves the downtown section on the edge."

He said he expects the city to jump Tierra Blanca Creek on the south. He advised that considerable open land be left on the fringes of the creek for public parks and other public use.

He said the area does not lend itself to sub-division because it basically is a flooded plain.

"Nothing is going to alleviate the fact that the Lord made this to drain water," he declared.

Springer heard for the first time about Interstate 27, new designation of U. S. 87, and the proposed by-pass of Canyon.

Present plans call for the highway to by-pass Canyon to the east. Springer advised annexation to the by-pass in order to effect orderly development.

He said he believes the by-pass will add structure to the town.

Mayor Paul Lindsey revealed that a study of Tierra Blanca Creek by the Corps of Engineers was requested some two years ago and should be ready this year.

Springer also discussed buildings, streets and other facets of Canyon's development.

Everyone should also be reminded of the off-setting compliance provision of these programs, Lloyd said.

Anyone planting in excess of allotments and bases on a non-complying farm will require forfeiture of program benefits on all complying farms.

The ASC State Committee has also issued a regulation that deliberate burning of any crop residue, other than flax, violates reasonable conservation principles and will be considered a practice defeating the purposes of the Agricultural Conservation program.

Any ACP payments already earned must be refunded and future payments may not be earned during the year the stubble is burned, Lloyd said.

wheat produced, farmers will realize a blend price of from $1.95 to $2.61 per bushel for their 1969 crop, Lloyd said.

The range varies according to the number of acres diverted from production on each farm with the larger amount representing a farm diverting 50 per cent.

A market price of $1.30 per bushel and actual production equal to the established yield was used for computations. This does not include any diversion payments, Lloyd said.

This means that a farm diverting 50 per cent of its allotment will receive approximately $2.61 per bushel for his entire wheat production. This is about 94 per cent of the parity price of $2.77, Lloyd said.

The rate of $1.52 per bushel compares with $1.38 received in 1968 and $1.36 received in 1967.

In Randall County, 751 farms enrolled in the 1969 wheat program. These farms will have a total acreage close to 49,000 acres eligible for certificates.

on campus, 2,000 live in Amarillo, 2,000 live in the community and 1,000 to 1,200 live in outlying areas.

There has been only a 24 apartment unit increase in Canyon in the last year so the only place they can go is Amarillo, Carruth said.

The problem in this respect, Carruth said, is the high interest rate and the unavailability of funds for building apartment houses.

He said that many of the students were bringing trailer houses into Canyon but he said the trailer parks here were full and they had to go to Amarillo to find trailer space.

"I think we can assist students in finding housing," Carruth said.

He said that WT had an application in now with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for a new high rise residence complex.

Carruth said the department had money available for university housing in this area for only 40 per cent of the applications.

"They must determine whose need is the greatest," he said.

"We hope to get word that it is approved soon, and let the contract so that the building will be ready next year," Carruth said.

The housing complex would house 300 men and 200 women.

"It will fill the first year," Carruth said, "and we will still have problems."

but said he wants support of Canyon people. Three other commissioners expressed approval but also want to see a study on the matter before action is taken.

Cox advised that a committee be appointed to contact land owners in the affected area and that an effort be made to work out a voluntary annexation plan.

There have been reports that Amarillo will annex southward to McCormick Road this year. Canyon can annex only to within five miles of Amarillo while the larger city by law may annex to within a mile of Canyon.

In other business Thursday night the commission discussed the possibility of asking Randall County to participate in the expense of maintaining Canyon city dump.

Mayor Lindsey explained that people from all over the county use the dump but that the county does not participate in the expense of maintaining it.

Lindsey said county people have used the dump over the years.

"We can't hardly run them off now," he said.

Lindsey proposed that representatives from the city discuss the problem with Bi-City-County Health Unit officials and County Health Officer Dr. Dudley Moore and then approach comissioners court.

Lindsey said debris from the recent storm in South Amarillo presently is clogging the Canyon dump ground.

City officials are pondering a method for burying trash on a daily basis since Texas law now prohibits burning it.

Professor Attends Institute

An associate professor of biology at West Texas State University is one of the men in the fields of physics, chemistry and biology selected to attend the 1969 Summer Institute on Nuclear Methods in the Natural Sciences.

Dr. Charles E. Wright left this week for Oakridge, Tenn., to participate in the eight-week institute.

The institute is sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

Dr. Wright said he would be studying radiation, physics, health physics, low level counting, tracer techniques and neutron activation analysis.

He will conduct experiments in these fields in order to learn to use the equipment at Oakridge.

Dr. Wright attended a similar conference in radiation-biology in Raleigh, N. C., in 1965.

Phi Delta Theta First At WTSU

For the second consecutive year Phi Delta Theta was the academic leader amond social fraternities at West Texas State University. The fraternity ranked above the other four on campus with an over-all grade point of 1.406 on a 3 point system.

"This is a good academic record considering the large number of students involved in ascertaining the grade point average," said Dr. T. Paige Carruth, dean of student life.

Lambda Chi Alpha was in second place with a 1.396 average.

The averages were compiled during the 1968-69 regular session and showed the grades of all the fraternities above the university-wide undergraduate men's average of 1.059.

Figures published in the May 1969 issue of The Scroll, Phi Delta Theta national quarterly, showed the Texas Theta chapter at WTSU to have the sixth highest grade average for 1967-68 of 96 chapters in the country. It also was listed for the second consecutive year on the Phi Delta Theta honor roll for being above the all-men's average and in the top third of all fraternities on its campus.

Fraternities residents on the WTSU campus include Phi Delta Theta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Tau Omega and Kappa Alpha Order.

Eight young men responsible for handling the exhibit were David Cobb, Dick Cobb, Mark Read, Richard Easley, Roy Markham, Roger Button, Chris Hull, and Don Read. Al Forrester directed the activities.

Many of the club's members took advantage of the picnic areas and swimming pools prior to the fireworks show.

After the display concluded, many members shot fireworks of their own activating continued interest among the viewers.
